HISTORY

Art For Evolution (AFE) is a nonprofit charitable organization founded in 2013 in Miami, Florida by the ecological artist Analia Bordenave.

Since then AFE provides education about solutions to environmental problems and provides safe alternatives to threats to the environment through Ecological and Participatory Art.

MISSION

Art For Evolution's mission is to strengthen the community and the environment through art.

AFE uses ECOLOGICAL ART and PARTICIPATORY ART as tools to raise awareness of the habits that negatively impact the planet, and shift them toward creating a positive and lasting (green) mark on the planet.

VISION

We believe that art has the power to change the world!

With our NFTs we want to involve the community in participatory/ecological big-scale art.

The result will be significant Eco-Artworks that will create a positive impact on the planet.

DO YOUR SMALL PART FOR A BIG CHANGE AND LEAVE YOUR MARK!

PRESIDENT
Analia Bordenave

"I LOVE NATURE AND ART IS MY PASSION."

" In 2008 I discovered Participatory Art, where I could co-create with every bystander. Around 2011 in response to the trend toward devastation of the planet, I decided to get out of my art studio, set aside my canvas, acrylic, and other traditional materials, to use the elements of nature to make art. During the pandemic time in 2019 I made my artwork come alive with Augmented Reality Art Today, NFTs are transforming the Art world. It's time to unite all these concepts to create the most complete and funny form of Art I invite you to be a part of Art For Evolution. We create NFTs that compensate for the pollution. JOIN US!

OUR GRAY MARK IN THE OCEANS

WHY PROTECT OUR OCEANS?

WHY PROTECT THE CORALS?

Our marine habitats find themselves on the frontlines of the planet's greatest conflict -- one that threatens countless species and the health of future generations -- the fight to avert a climate crisis.

How Do We Pollute?

- Garbage. Garbage and plastic debris (bags, straws, cutlery, six-pack rings, water bottles, etc.)
- Sunscreen and Other Topicals.
- Oil Seepage.
- Sewage.
- Agricultural and Aquaculture Runoff.
- Industrial Waste.
- Carbon Dioxide.
- Noise.

Because the oceans are essential to life on Earth.

The ocean is the largest ecosystem on Earth, it is the planet's life support system. Oceans generate half of the oxygen we breathe and, at any given moment, they contain more than 97% of the world's water. Living oceans absorb carbon dioxide from the atmosphere and reduce climate change impacts.

The diversity and productivity of the world's oceans is a vital interest for humankind. The battle to save our most diverse ecosystems is entering a critical phase.

The world has lost over half of its coral reefs in the past 30 years due to climate change, overfishing, and pollution. Coral bleaching, which is caused by warmer ocean temperatures, is now 'five times more frequent than 40 years ago. The scale of bleaching has been rising steadily in the last four decades, a study author tells Carbon Brief, with the global proportion of coral being hit by bleaching per year rising from 8% in the 1980s to 31% in 2016.

By 2050, nearly all the world's reefs will be at risk, according to the US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

Because you and the future of all those you love depends on healthy oceans. We want a better future for our oceans and the people that depend on them.
